This catalogue lists all sales publications of the International Atomic Energy Agency dealing with Safeguards and Legal Matters issued during the period 1970–1994. Most publications are published in English, though some are also available in French, Russian and Spanish. Proceedings of conferences, symposia and panels of experts may contain some papers in languages other than English (French, Russian or Spanish), but all of these papers have abstracts in English. If publications are also available in other languages than English, this is noted as C for Chinese, F for French, R for Russian and S for Spanish by the relevant ISBN number.

It should be noted that prices of books are quoted in Austrian Schillings. The prices do not include local taxes and are subject to change without notice.

All books in this catalogue are 16 × 24 cm, paper-bound, unless otherwise stated.

IAEA SAFEGUARDS GLOSSARY

1987 Edition

IAEA Safeguards Information Series No. 1

This is a revision of the glossary of safeguards terms published in 1980, taking into account the latest developments as well as comments received since the first version appeared. The glossary is intended to contribute to defining and rationalizing many terms used for the purpose of IAEA safeguards, with a view to improving the common understanding of such terms within the International community and to providing a quick reference for interested readers.

Contents: 1. IAEA Safeguards: Purpose and objective; 2. Nuclear and non-nuclear material; 3. Nuclear installations and equipment; 4. Design of the safeguards approach; 5. Nuclear material accountancy; 6. Measurements and equipment; 7. Statistical concepts; 8. Containment and surveillance; 9. Safeguards information, records and reports; 10. Inspections; Appendix: International instruments and other basic documents; Translations of terms into French, Russian, Spanish, German and Japanese; Index.

IAEA SAFEGUARDS: GUIDELINES FOR STATES' SYSTEMS OF ACCOUNTING FOR AND CONTROL OF NUCLEAR MATERIALS

IAEA Safeguards Information Series No. 2

This publication is intended to assist Member States in establishing, maintaining and reviewing their States' System of Accounting for and Control of Nuclear Material (SSAC) and therefore presents guidelines for the organization and functions of the SSAC with respect to obligations arising from Safeguards Agreements concluded by a State with the IAEA, including the elements of the System and the performance required from it at the State and facility levels.

Contents: Introduction; Organization and functional elements at the level of a State; SSAC organization and operation at the level of a facility.

IAEA SAFEGUARDS: SAFEGUARDS TECHNIQUES, AND EQUIPMENT

IAEA Safeguards Information Series No. 5

This publication is intended for the non-technical reader interested in the equipment and techniques used in verification measures for both nuclear material accountancy and containment and surveillance. The equipment and techniques described are chosen to give a representative picture of safeguards verification measures, both in routine use and under development.

Contents: Introduction; Non-destructive analysis (NDA) techniques; Containment and surveillance (C/S) techniques.

INTERNATIONAL NUCLEAR SAFEGUARDS 1994: *NEW VISION FOR THE FUTURE
Proceedings Series

Proceedings of a symposium organized in co-operation with ANS, ESARDA, INMM and the Nuclear Society International (Moscow), Vienna, 14–18 March 1994. Presented at this symposium were: the findings in Iraq by the Action Team established under United Nations Security Council resolutions, South Africa's decision to join the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons (NPT), details of the IAEA–Argentina–Brazil–ABACC Quadripartite Safeguards Agreement, and measures following the break-up of the former USSR into newly independent States. Special emphasis was given to the verification of a State's declaration as well as detection of undeclared activities. In addition to covering recent developments, the symposium considered fundamental changes stemming from converging relationships between nuclear arms reductions and the civil use of plutonium, unattended computer based verification systems and other safeguards concepts for the future, and the review and extension of the NPT in 1995.

Contents: (Vol. 1) Invited overview papers; National and regional systems for accounting and control of nuclear material; Material accountancy; Safeguards for uranium enrichment and fuel fabrication facilities; New experience and initiatives; Safeguards statistics and data processing; Strengthened and more cost effective safeguards; Integrated safeguards systems; Research and development and analytical measurements. (Vol. 2) Safeguards for plutonium facilities; Containment and surveillance technology; Safeguards for reactors and spent fuel storage facilities; Non-destructive analysis measurement techniques; Safeguards approaches, criteria and evaluation; Safeguards concepts for the future; Member States support programmes; Panel on future directions for international safeguards.

NUCLEAR SAFEGUARDS TECHNOLOGY 1982
Proceedings Series

Proceedings of the fifth Symposium, Vienna, 8–12 November 1982. Measurement methods are described in terms of operating experience with working equipment. There is a discussion on verification with the emphasis on working verification equipment or on authentication of newly developed and highly automated non-destructive analysis equipment. Near-real-time material accountancy is reviewed. Matters relating to material accountancy rather than containment and surveillance are given prominence. Topics such as quantitative destructive or non-destructive measurement methods, the statistics of MUF analysis, and safeguards approaches based on material accountancy are emphasized.

Contents: (Vol. 1) An assessment of existing safeguards; Approaches to safeguards; State and facility material control systems; Destructive analytical measurements; Containment and surveillance in IAEA safeguards; (Vol. 2) Non-destructive measurements; Statistics in IAEA safeguards; Safeguards for reprocessing facilities; Safeguards for enrichment facilities;

NUCLEAR SAFEGUARDS TECHNOLOGY 1986 Proceedings Series

Proceedings of the sixth Symposium, Vienna, 10-14 November 1986. Development efforts related to safeguards for reprocessing plants constitute over twenty per cent of the papers, while most of the remaining deal with non-destructive measurement methods. The emphasis throughout is on demonstrated equipment field tests of proposed safeguards methods and other practical considerations.

Contents: (Vol. 1) General papers; Safeguards for reprocessing facilities; Measurements in reprocessing facilities; Safeguards for uranium enrichment facilities; Statistics of sequential data analysis; Safeguards for MOX and uranium fabrication facilities; Spent fuel measurements; Analytical measurements; (Vol. 2) Containment-surveillance technology; Safeguards for reactors or long term storage facilities; Materials accountancy information systems; NDA measurement techniques; Safeguards for heavy water; General statistics; Safeguards philosophy and concepts.

Supplement 1 to the 1970 Edition of Legal Series No. 7
Legal Series No. 7-S1

The first publication covering this subject was published in 1970 (Legal Series No. 7 — the basic book), written by Mr. Paul C. Szasz, who, together with Mr. Reinhard H. Rainer, is also co-author of the present book. As the Agency's work has expanded, the emphasis of its programme components shifted and administrative practices changed, an update of the study became necessary to ensure its continued value as a comprehensive reference tool and documentation of the main legal and administrative developments. This updated edition retains the original structure of the basic book as far as possible to allow consultation of both books seriatim.

REGLEMENTATION DES ACTIVITES NUCLEAIRES
Collection juridique n° 13

Communications présentées au Séminaire interrégional sur le droit nucléaire et la réglementation en matière de sûreté nucléaire tenu à Rabat (Maroc) en 1983. Le Séminaire visait à donner aux pays francophones d'Afrique un aperçu global de la réglementation nucléaire et de son évolution dans le contexte des normes, recommandations et conventions internationales s'y rapportant. Les 14 communications présentées par des fonctionnaires du Secrétariat de l'AIEA et des experts venant de différents Etats Membres et organisations internationales s'adressent à tous ceux qu'intéresse le développement du droit nucléaire et des questions d'ordre réglementaire liées à la mise en œuvre d'un programme national dans le domaine de l'énergie atomique. Les annexes contiennent les textes de deux conventions dont l'AIEA est le dépositaire, le texte du Traité sur la non-prolifération des armes nucléaires ainsi que des documents concernant le système des garanties de l'AIEA et certaines normes et recommandations établies par l'Agence.

Entièrement en français.

BILATERAL, REGIONAL AND MULTILATERAL AGREEMENTS RELATING TO CO-OPERATION IN THE FIELD OF NUCLEAR SAFETY
Legal Series No. 15

This publication contains the texts of bilateral, regional and multilateral co-operation agreements in the field of nuclear safety to which Member States of the IAEA are a party and which have been submitted to the Agency by its Member States for inclusion in the present volume.

Contents: Part I contains the bilateral agreements in the language version(s) provided by Member States, given in alphabetical order by name of the Member State party to the agreement. Titles of agreements provided in a language other than English have been translated into English, but these English versions have no official status. The Index of Bilateral Agreements lists all titles under each Member State party to any agreement. Part II consists of regional agreements while Part III pertains to multilateral agreements relating to co-operation in the field of nuclear safety.

DEFINITION AND RECOMMENDATIONS FOR THE CONVENTION ON THE PREVENTION OF
MARINE POLLUTION BY DUMPING OF WASTES
AND OTHER MATTER, 1972-1986 Edition
Safety Series No. 78

Under the terms of the Convention on the Prevention of Marine Pollution by Dumping of Wastes and Other Matter, the IAEA is the organization with the responsibility for defining high level radioactive wastes or other high level radioactive matter, which is unsuitable for dumping at sea. The IAEA established a provisional Definition and Recommendations in 1972 and a revised version in 1978. The present Safety Series document contains the second revised Definition and Recommendations, which were established in 1985.

Contents: Scope; 1. Introduction to the Definition and Recommendations; 2. Definition of high level radioactive waste or other high level radioactive matter unsuitable for dumping at sea; 3. Recommendations required by Annex II of the Convention pertaining to the dumping of radioactive wastes; Annex I. Derivation of the quantitative definition of wastes unsuitable for dumping at sea; Annex II. Comparison with previous Definition and Recommendations; Annex III. Summary of meetings and documentation.

INTERNATIONAL
ATOMIC ENERGY AGENCY
VIENNA

IAEA YEARBOOK 1994

NEW

The sixth edition of the IAEA Yearbook provides a comprehensive global coverage of progress in the fields of nuclear power, the nuclear fuel cycle, radioactive waste management and nuclear and radiation safety. In addition, illustrating the variety of applications in which nuclear techniques are found, separate articles describe the beneficial impacts of nuclear isotope techniques on agriculture and food production in the last thirty years and the contribution of environmental isotope techniques to the development of scarce water resources in arid regions. The Yearbook also highlights some of the activities within the IAEA's technical co-operation programme: efforts to improve the seismic safety of the Kozloduy nuclear power plant in Bulgaria, and trends in the scientific training of individuals from developing countries. Two further articles describe how the IAEA safeguards system is evolving in response to recent developments.

Contents: Part A — Transfer of Nuclear Technology; Part B — Applications of Nuclear Techniques and Research; Part C — Nuclear Power, Nuclear Fuel Cycle and Waste Management: Status and Trends; Part D — Nuclear Safety Review; Part E — IAEA Safeguards; Part F — The IAEA.

Parts C and D are also available separately.

MEETINGS ON ATOMIC ENERGY

Each quarterly issue presents listings of future conferences and training courses on subjects directly or indirectly related to nuclear energy and its peaceful uses. Information is given — subject to availability — on the scope, abstract deadlines, sponsors and contact addresses of each conference/training course. This is an indispensable reference and aid for institutes, universities, libraries and individual scientists in the scheduling and planning of activities.

Contents: Chronological listings of conferences and exhibitions with both Key word and Location indices; International and national training courses; Detailed information on IAEA meetings.
