What’s Next: The Status of ISO Global KM Standards and the Importance of Managing Knowledge Assets

R. Young\textsuperscript{1}

\textsuperscript{1}Knowledge Associates, Cowley Road, Cambridge, CB4 0WS, UK

Corresponding Author: R. Young, ronyoung@knowledge-associates.com

Ron Young, CEO of Knowledge Associates International, based in Cambridge UK, is Chair of the BSI KM Standards Committee KMS/1, member of the BSI Asset Management Committee AMS/1 working with ISO 55000, and member of the ISO 30401 workgroup developing a global KM Standard. He will present the benefits, challenges and implications of a global KM standard, from his perspective, and give an update on the ISO/BSI standard development. He will also provide insights into the latest developments with knowledge asset management.